What a Catch!

*2nd annual Meadowlark Fishing
Tournament starts in June*

submitted by Monte Spiller

It's time for the second annual Meadowlark Fishing Tournament! The tournament is open to all residents, staff and family members and will take place at Bayer Pond on Meadowlark's campus. Not only will you have a good time fishing, you also have the chance to compete for some great prizes!

Residents Terry Livingston and Don Rasmussen will lead the kick-off meeting for the tournament at 2 p.m. Friday, June 29, in the KSU Classroom. The tournament will run from 3 p.m. Friday, June 29, through noon Friday, July 6. A post-tournament gathering and awards ceremony will be at 2 p.m. Friday, July 6, in the KSU Classroom.

If you have questions regarding the Fishing Tournament, please contact Monte Spiller at (785) 323-3801.

Outdoor Opportunities

submitted by Nathan Bolls

All through the fall, winter, and spring we on campus have been privileged to hear calls of both the barred and great horned owls. Both rank among the largest of owls in North America. Field guides usually describe their calls as follows: great horned owl, often referred to as the "hoot" owl—four to six resonant hoots, with rhythms varying with the owl; barred owl—"hoo—hoo—boohoo," That comes out as a slightly shrill and insistent "Who cooks for you?" The barred owl also sometimes calls during the day.

Their superb sense of hearing makes them "mousers" of the first rank. But both owls feed on a wide variety of animals: insects, mice, squirrels, amphibians, and rabbits. The great horned, slightly larger, and a fearsome hunter, ranges across the entire lower Forty-Eight, plus much of Canada, Alaska, and Mexico. It also has been known to take skunks, crows, porcupines, domestic cats, ospreys, porcupines, and great blue herons, as well as other hawks and owls. All owls cough up pellets of undigested fur, bones, and feathers. Piles of these pellets can build up beneath an owl's nesting spot.

All owls tend to be solitary outside the breeding season.

They choose a variety of nesting sites, including tree hollows, old nests of hawks or crows, or a cliff ledge. The barred owl will come to a nest box if the entrance is at least six inches in diameter. It's kinda like "Where does an 800-pound gorilla sleep?" But they prefer nesting sites that are high—between 25-80 feet above the ground.

I don't know about the veracity of connecting owls with wisdom, but they are patient hunters and incredibly silent in flight—due to the way the ends of their feathers are constructed. They are famous for being able to turn their heads, some as much as 270 degrees! That is forty-five degrees behind looking ether full left or right. A couple of neck anatomical differences between owls and humans make this possible. This trait is helpful because owls cannot move their eyeballs as we do.

The owl plays a significant role in many native religions and also has a place in the rituals of the culture developed by the Spanish Catholic settlers that came to the American Southwest several centuries ago. This bird, misunderstood by some—and, thus, feared—is a mysterious, masterful, majestic, and magnificent animal!

MFD: The Early Years

Friday, June 15, at 7 p.m.

Meadowlark is excited to have current and former members of the Manhattan Fire Department visit at 7 p.m. Friday, June 15, in the Community Room to present Manhattan Fire Department: The Early Years.

Chuck Tannehill and Micah Hydeman will share the early history of the department. While this history is a story of organizational development and technological advancement, it is really best understood in the context of the growing community it served. From a tiny settlement on the banks of the Kansas River, the city grew to include a wide range of commercial and residential structures, as well as, a nationally recognized university. As Manhattan grew, so did its public safety requirements. Initially comprised of a handful of public-spirited volunteer firefighters, Manhattan's Fire Department eventually developed into a full-time organization professionally-trained and equipped to meet the demands of a thriving community.

Birthday Party for Jane Westfall

Saturday, June 23, at 3 p.m.

You're invited to celebrate the 90th birthday of Dr. Jane Westfall from 3 to 5 p.m. Saturday, June 23, in the Community Room. Cake and punch will be served. Jane requests no gifts, please.

Voter Registration for state election year

submitted by Kay Shanks

It's that time again and we have a State Election coming up. If you have moved your residence to or within Meadowlark since the last election, law requires you to reregister to update your voter registration, by filling it out with your new address. If you do not update your address, your ballot may be returned to the Clerk's office. Ballots cannot be forwarded. If you are unsure, you can get a Voter Application at the front desk or from Kay Shanks, 539-2066.

Are you new to Kansas? Would you like to register to vote? If so, you will need to complete a new voter registration application and you may be required to provide proof of citizenship. It can be a little more difficult but Kay would be glad to help you get the required forms and answer questions you may have.

The deadline to register is July 17 for the Primary. Election Day will be on Tuesday, Aug. 7. The deadline for to register for the General is Oct. 16. The General Election is on Tuesday, Nov. 6. If you are not sure about your voter registration, please feel free to call the Riley County Clerk's Office at (785) 537-6300 and ask for Anita Cook. She has access to search the State of Kansas to see if you have registered or not.

Would you like a ballot mailed to you? We have forms up front or you can call the Riley County Clerk's office and Anita will see one gets sent to you. Again, this process can be difficult, but Kay is very knowledgeable and would be glad to help you get you the forms as well as answer any question you may have. If she is unable to answer your question, she will call the clerk's office and get you the information you need.

LEADER OF THE PACK

Congratulations to Meadowlark's June 2018 Leader of the Pack, Shannon Creagh. Shannon has been an amazing addition to Meadowlark from her very first day! She is incredibly positive and always goes above and beyond. She frequently visits her clients and brings them special treats when they are unwell and can't make it to their appointment. Shannon jumped at the idea to host Meadowlark's fourth grade class for their field trip. She brought in her own supplies and wigs for the kids to learn on and style. We love having Shannon as a part of the Meadowlark family!

On the Horse With a Mind of His Own submitted by Helen Roser

On the track bus, on my way to Hollywood Park, I studied my Racing Form, planning my bets. I saw mention that a horse from the East coast had been brought for one race. He was a front-runner. Hmm. I searched the Form for the fast-closer in his race. There was none. Hmm.

Before the bus had reached the track, I had decided to place a larger than usual bet on the front-runner. From my seat, which had a good view of the horses as they paraded, I saw that my horse was cranky. He didn't like parading.

Then, with their jockeys all on their horse, grooms led the horses out onto the long walk to the starting gate. Well, he was having none of it. He stopped. Then began the yanking on his front end while the ultimate insult was delivered from the back as two pushed his behind.

The odds on the tote board were spinning as he went from the favorite to a long shot. A very long shot. A young lady tugged my shoulder from behind and asked me: "Ma'am, I bet all my money on him! Do you think I can get my money back so I can bet on another horse?" I told her I wouldn't count on it.

On the track, where the yankers and pushers had stopped, the horse decided to move, which he did by turning around and walking toward the starting gate, his way. Which was backward.

Not appreciating that they had a horse with a mind of his own, they began yanking and pushing as they tried to turn him around. The jockey simply sat on his horse, a front-runner with a lot of spirit. Finally the horse was allowed to walk to the starting gate without yanking or pushing. The other horses were waiting for him in their starting gate.

They were off! He came out of his gate like he had been shot out of a cannon. He headed for the rail, then stayed on it until he zoomed across the finish line, first.

I went home with much more winnings than I had expected. But best of all, I had watched a wonderful horse with a mind of his own.

IL Resident Council Minutes, May 7, 2018

Staff present: Lonnie Baker, Jayme Minton and Monte Spiller

Pat welcomed all meeting attendees.

Updates

General Update: Lonnie shared that the new fiscal year starts June 1 and the Meadowlark team is planning on three major projects being its focus. The first being addressed will be the kitchen in Prairie Star Restaurant. We have received some raw numbers on the project and the decision to build a new kitchen rather than remodel the current was suggested as they would be very similar in cost. With building a new kitchen, it creates a horseshoe effect around the patio space with the new addition being built to the east. The hope with the patio space is to enclose it and add ample lighting to create a nice bright warm space. Building a new kitchen also will allow us to take what is the current kitchen and expand the dining space into that area. Construction of the kitchen is expected to start early 2019.

The second project is parking. We are looking at July of this year to move forward with construction. We will build a parking lot behind the maintenance shop which will accommodate 25 vehicles. The intent is to park all Meadowlark and maintenance staff vehicles in this area. This will open up several spots for regular parking in the addition of another six spots up front along Meadowlark Road.

The third project is the courtyard which is accessible from the Game Room and Verna Belle's Cafe. The ideas are to gut the area and add covered seating with electric, to have most of the space walkable with pavers and more paths, possibly a putting green, bocce court and an outdoor serving table or bar area. There is no time table on this project at this point. Becky Fitzgerald will take the lead on fundraising for the courtyard project.

Lonnie also shared that Lyle Butler with the Chamber is retiring.

Support Services Update: Jayme explained the Physician's Practice has added more Nurse Practitioner hours with Jen Peterson going on maternity leave. Jen plans to return in August.

Regarding the potential childcare service here on campus, we are still exploring options and taking the appropriate steps to move forward.

Jonathon Meyer, Bruna Abdo and Megan Thompson have been hired as the new Service Managers for Prairie Star Restaurant. They will be working mostly in the evenings and on the weekends.

Approval of April Minutes: Motion to approve minutes was moved and passed.

New Business

Pat introduced Elaine Manges as the new 2nd Floor Representative.

Jo Lyle was reelected for another term as the Tuttle Creek Representative.

The question about solar panel and windmill usage was raised. Lonnie expressed that this subject was discussed years ago prior to his arrival. His understanding was without external federal money, the cost of upkeep and maintenance would not benefit Meadowlark to invest in alternative energy sources at this time, but he would look into it.

Old Business: None.

Additional Discussion Topics

A request to possibly have raised garden beds in the Meadowlark Community Garden was brought up. It was explained that the garden area is run by residents, but Mark Morton could be a good resource.

Meeting adjourned

Town Meeting Notes, June 4

Notes from Town Meeting conducted by Monte Spiller, Resident Services Leader, on June 4.

Welcome Monte welcomed the meeting attendees. New independent living residents

Nancy Bowen and Joanne Barkyoumb introduced themselves to the group.

Campus Update Lonnie explained the system adapted years ago for navigating renovations and updates the common spaces. This includes an open meeting with residents and staff to gather feedback, engaging a designer, then presenting options to be voted on by the residents. During the next fiscal year, which starts in July 2018, the lobby décor and design will be addressed. There are many other projects planned for the upcoming year, including two new bridges on the trail system.

Support Services Update Brook Marcotte is back today, June 4, following her maternity leave. Please see her for any special event, restaurant or café needs.

Meadowlark Wellness Olympiad The Olympiad concluded at the end of May. Twelve teams participated and completed a combined total of 887 hours of physical activity over the six-week Olympiad. Terry Livingston and Beverly Dodds attended every activity. The winning team was Team Germany, which included Don and Bea Rasmussen and Cam Beatty.

Osher Summer Classes Registration for the summer session of Osher Classes is now open. Please visit the Hospitality Desk to pick up a registration form.

Upcoming Events Monte reviewed the events coming up in the month of May. Please see the weekly Meadowlark Messenger for details.

Meadowlark: Evolution of Community Sarah Duggan presented a new video that tells more about Meadowlark and many great things going on within the organization. To view the video online, please follow the steps below.
